First Aid for the Soul

The Or Zarua Hesed Committee has a project for you that will change your life-for the better! We are interested in forming a group of volunteers from our shul who will be part of Lenox Hill Bikur Cholim (LHBC). Established over ten years ago, LHBC organizes volunteer visits to the approximately 150 Jewish patients who are at Lenox Hill Hospital at any one particular time. Volunteers visit patients every day, including Shabbat, helping to alleviate some of the solitude that inevitably creeps up on the ill.

Bikur Cholim (visiting the sick) is a Mitzvah that the Torah states was actually performed by God when he visited Abraham. It transforms people's lives, both the recipient and the volunteer's. A visit to hospital patients gives hope, friendship and optimism, especially because they often are at their weakest and most vulnerable. The visit can include helping the patient pray, reciting Kiddush for them on Shabbat, or just sitting for a few minutes and talking. Around Jewish holidays you may distribute to the patients cheerful gift packages donated on their behalf. The good that such a visit can do is immeasurable.

Your involvement is whenever your schedule permits. You can volunteer once a week, once a month or whenever your schedule permits, although the Hesed Committee would like to develop a core group of volunteers who will be part of the LHBC on a regular basis.

On Tuesday, January 16, from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m., Zella Goldfinger, Or Zarua member and Executive Director of LHBC, will provide an orientation and training session providing an overview of the importance of Bikur Cholim, and the do's and don'ts of visiting the sick and the LHBC. We invite all interested members to attend. There is no further obligation to participate, but you will learn valuable information and skills to use in your daily life. We will meet for the orientation at Lenox Hill Hospital, 100 East 77th Street between Park and Lexington at the information desk.

If you are interested, please contact David Pine at 472-7506 (eve.) or 214-5403 (day) or at david_pine@prusec.com or return the form on page 7 to the synagogue office. Please join us! Thank you!

Winter Overcoats Needed for Eastside Homeless

Warm winter clothes, especially men's overcoats are needed for the Neighborhood Coalition for Shelter walk-in center located on E. 77th Street. Help brighten someone else's winter and make room in your closets!

To arrange a donation of your unwanted (cleaned) winter clothes, please contact Frances Freedman (212-988-6090).

Or Zarua Hebrew School News

Overall, this semester has been one of great success and progress for all of our Hebrew School students as they learn new materials and continue to discover the many connections between their Jewish heritage and their daily lives. The teachers and I take a great deal of pride in the fact that through their classroom learning and their participation in our music program (and especially our Zimriot, songfests) the students' are developing a tremendous ruach (spirit) and love for Judaism.

I am happy to report that the modifications we have made to our Hebrew school curriculum are greatly enhancing our students' mastery of Hebrew reading and their ability to both recite and understand prayers. In the lower grades, through art, song and discussions, and other creative means of teaching the students are developing a wealth of knowledge about the holidays, prayers, Torah stories and mitzvot. In the upper grades, through the monthly Shabbat morning program, the students' appreciation for Shabbat has grown considerably. Focusing on key themes related to Shabbat have helped our students gain a special feeling for the weekly Sabbath day. It has also been wonderful to see the students get to know one another better through the elective program, in which Dalet, Hey and Vav class students can choose between one of three text based classes: Ethics, Torah figure study and Choni Ha'Maagel. The High School program also continues to flourish as Israeli culture, appreciation for the holidays, and history are being integrated into the students' lives.

Finally, at this point in the school year, most of the classes have enjoyed visits from Rabbi Wechsler. In these special sessions, the Rabbi has been sharing new insights about the subjects that the students are studying. The visit provides each class with a wonderful opportunity for the students to spend quality time with the Rabbi, ask him their questions, and learn from his wisdom.

On behalf of all of the faculty of the Hebrew School, I want to take this time to wish you and your families a Chag Urim Sameach, a Happy Chanukkah. May the light of the Chanukkah candles kindle a spark in each of us to help inspire us to do many mitzvot in the year ahead.

For more information about the Or Zarua Hebrew School, please contact Charlie Sherman, Educational Director at 917-834-0308.

OZY and Junior Congregation News

Two Or Zarua Youth (OZY) Services are held every Shabbat morning. The OZY service for children ages infant through 6-years-old (children 3-years-old and younger must be accompanied by an adult) begins promptly at 11 a.m. and ends at noon. A Junior Congregation service held for children ages 7 through 13 begins promptly at 10:30 a.m. and ends at noon. On weeks when there is a Hebrew School Shabbat Class, children who would normally attend the Junior Congregation are invited to join the Hebrew School Shabbat Class. Please see the calendar for dates when the Hebrew School Shabbat Class meets.

Halfway through the service in both the OZY and Junior Congregation services, children are divided into two separate groups, (infant through age 3 and children ages 4-6 in the younger OZY service) and (ages 7-9 and 10-13 in the Junior Congregation service) for discussions, stories and learning activities. At the conclusion of the OZY/Junior Congregation services, all of the children are escorted from their respective classrooms to join the full synagogue congregation in the concluding hymns and Kiddush.

Signs are posted indicating the location of the OZY/Junior Congregation services.

For further information regarding the OZY/Junior Congregation Shabbat morning services, please contact Charlie Sherman, Educational Director at 917-834-0308.

Hesed Connection News

Shimon Ha-Tzaddik was one of the last members of the Great Assembly. In Pirke Avot 1:2 he is quoted as saying: The world rests on three things—on Torah, on service of God and on deeds of love.

The Or Zarua Hesed Connection program for children in the Hebrew School and in the Congregation at-large is based upon the above premise. Thus far, we have been able to bring acts of hesed, kindness, into our Hebrew School community for Rosh Hashanah, Sukkot and Chanukkah.

Hebrew School teacher/Hesed Connection Coordinator, Kliel Rose and I want to thank Lesley Palmer and the entire Hesed Committee for their helpful ideas. We plan to incorporate many of their suggestions for the upcoming spring semester. We look forward to planning and implementing more special Holiday programs as the year continues and we hope that you will stay tuned for details on future Hesed connection events as the year progresses.

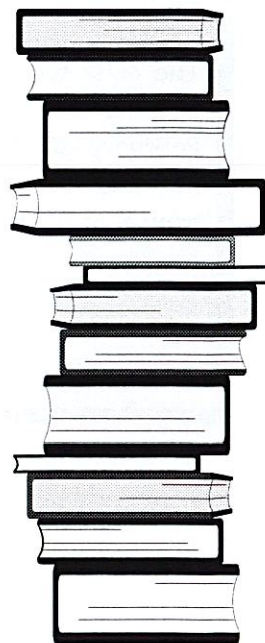

Please remember that all children and teenagers in the congregation are welcome to attend our valuable programs. High School students can use Hesed Connection hours toward community service credit. What better way to spend a few hours every month or two then to activities that strive to help make the world a better place in which to live.

To learn more about Hesed Connection activities, please contact Charlie Sherman, Educational Director, at 917-834-0308.

Or Zarua Book Club

Please join us on Sunday, January 7th, 2001 at 7:30 for a discussion of "Jew Vs Jew: The Struggle for the Soul of American Jewry" by Samuel G. Freeman. The New York Times states that the writer "Explores the frictions that have arisen in the American Jewish community, and envision a possible future in which religion alone will be the determinant of who is Jewish and who not." The author writes, "...In a modern America of limitless possibilities, we are having to lean one way or the other, toward Jewish continuity or American dynamism..." Do you agree or disagree? It should be an interesting discussion.

Please contact the Office for the location of the meeting. The book is available at Barnes and Noble, Amazon. Com. and at the Public and 92nd Street Libraries. We look forward to seeing you at the meeting.

Education- A Mirror of the Jewish Soul

In this new workshop, members of OZ will now have the opportunity to explore, in depth, the 'davening', the Shabbat service and its prayer book, the Siddur, to really understand with "n-sha'mah-Jewish soul"- what we're doing in the synagogue, and how to do it. We'll discuss the origin of the prayers, why are they in this sequence and not that, why pray in Hebrew, what does it mean when we stand, or bow, etc.

You don't need to be fluent in Siddur Hebrew or to have had very much background. The course began earlier this fall and will continue through mid-Spring and will start with Shabbat morning. It will cover subjects like the different hymns and how essential they are, the role of the Psalms, how the prayers change for a new moon, the reading of the Torah and its various traditions.

Harry Trattner, president of a strategic planning and development firm, who is also an ordained Hazzan from the Jewish Theological Seminary, is the instructor.

The class will be held on Monday evening January 22, February 5 and February 26 in the Or Zarua Bet Midrash, 1384 Lexington Avenue from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Editor's note: We thought you'd be interested in the following letter sent to Richard Stadin, who is overseeing our Monday Night Food Program.

Dear Richard,

Thank you for all the great work you have been doing to organize volunteers from Congregation Or Zarua. The work all of you are doing to help the homeless on the Upper East Side is very important and is making a real difference in real folks' lives. Our neighborhood is a better place because of the work Or Zarua is doing with us. Many of you have gotten to know many of the residents at the 81st Street SRO from your regular volunteer work and you know first hand what a difference this evening meal program makes. The Monday meal supplied by the synagogue is great but even better are the men and women who come every week to set up, serve and mingle with the men and women who live at the SRO.

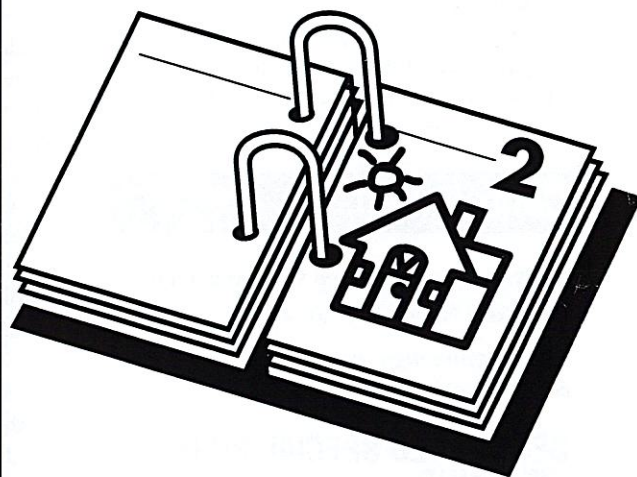

Ralph W. Vogel
Director of Volunteer Services
Neighborhood Coalition for Shelter

NOTE: Current volunteers at the Monday night meal serving provided by Or Zarua include: Erwin & Shari Mevorah, James Rothman, Bobbi Collier, Joanne Feierman, David Pine, Stephanie Faillon, Sara & David Stone, Gerry Solomon, and Richard Stadin. To get involved, please call Richard Stadin at 879-0448.

For Israel Stand United

Join world Jewry and demonstrate your love and support for Israel. Purchasing an Israel Bond is an act of solidarity showing Israel that world Jewry stands united behind our homeland at this crucial moment – and always.

Israel Bonds:
Our Land, Our People, Our Bond
